BODEGA NUMANTHIA

Bodega Numanthia is a prestigious Spanish wine brand known for producing powerful and intense wines from the Toro region.

Founded in 1998 by the Eguren family of La Rioja, the Maison focuses on the indigenous Tinta de Toro grape variety.

The vineyards are planted with ungrafted, low-yielding vines, some between 50 and 100 years old. The terroir of Toro, with its sandy, cobblestone-covered soils at a high altitude and extreme temperature variations, contributes to the wines' unique character.

The name Numanthia honors the ancient Iberian city known for its resistance against the Romans, reflecting the resilience of the Tinta de Toro grape.
